Tultex has taken care to ensure that the use of DISCHARGE PRINTING techniques are acceptable on our products. Please note that variations in fabric content may produce different results, as polyester and cotton react differently to chemical processes. Other factors that may effect results include fabric color, mechanical equipment, procedures, environment conditions, temperature settings or chemicals used. We advise that you sample the process, document the procedures and follow the guidelines of the chemical and printing manufactures at all times. Colors shown are representative of heathered products. Variations in shade are considered normal - please guide yourself accordingly in informing your customers. Not all colors are available in all styles. Please consult catalog, website or call for availability.
